Personal Statement

Recent Computer Science graduate with a solid academic background in software development, algorithms, and object-oriented programming. Skilled in languages such as php, javascript, python, Java, and C++, with hands-on experience from academic projects and personal coding initiatives. Eager to apply my technical knowledge, problem-solving abilities, and passion for learning in a real-world software engineering environment. Seeking an entry-level role or internship where I can contribute to meaningful projects, collaborate with experienced developers, and continue growing as a software engineer.
