Overview: This website focuses on selling electronic items like laptops and ensures a smooth experience. It's made with React, Redux toolkit, typescript, and other technologies to make it faster and more interactive. This is a front-end-focused and for necessary crud operation a back-end-focused website.

Features:

- Using the search option user could easily find laptops by their name.
- A robust filtering system has been applied to find the laptop that matches the specifications.
- Admin can do crud operation on the products and must go to the dashboard.

Technology Used: Typescript, React, Redux, Redux Toolkit, Firebase, Lordicon, React hook form, Express JS, MongoDB, Vercel.

TutorLink: (E-commerce)

Live Site || GitHub-Client || GitHub-Server

Overview:

Tutor Link is an online platform designed to help students easily find and connect with tutors. It show-cases a collection of tutor profiles, allowing users to browse, explore details, and make informed decisions based on their learning needs.

Features:

- Users can view a list of available tutors with basic information such as name, subject expertise, and location.
- By clicking on a tutor card, users can access a detailed page with more information about the tutor, including experience, subjects taught, and additional qualifications.
- Authentication system applied so that valid users/admin can do crud operation.

Technology Used: Next JS, React JS, Tailwind CSS, Next Auth, Node Js (Express Js), MongoDB, Mongoose, Jwt, Vercel
